

Hi Mike,

Thank you for speaking at VMworld in San Francisco! Below you will find the results of your session.

Just to put your session score in perspective, the average score across all vmworld sessions is a 4.0 and 75% of surveys responded with an Good or Excellent.

Regards,
Richard Garsthagen and Lauren Stevens
The VMworld Content Team

BC7773 - VMware Site Recovery Manager: Misconceptions and Misconfigurations

Session Stats

Session delivered	2
Total attendees	629
Surveys received	142
Survey Response rate	22%

How would you rate this session?

Poor	Fair	Neutral	Good	Excellent	Score	% Good/Excellent
1(0%)	7(5%)	13(9%)	57(40%)	62(44%)	4.2	84%

When compared to the session abstract, this session

Need more technical content	Right Amount of tech content	Too much tech content
41(29%)	95(68%)	3(2%)

How would you rate the speaker(s)?

Poor	Below Average	Average	Good	Excellent	Score
0(0%)	8(10%)	16(21%)	52(68%)	0(0%)	3.5

How likely are you to implement what you learned in this session?

Extreme Unlikely	Unlikely	Neither Likely nor Unlikely	Likely	Extreme Likely
4(2%)	8(5%)	23(16%)	57(41%)	47(33%)

How likely are you to recommend this session to a friend or colleague? (1-10)

7.9

Please let us know if you have any other comments or suggestions:

Needed more technical content
Good light overview of SRM and common problems with deployments
Good session
Mike did a terrific job. Connected very well and felt like a peer.

these sessions is really tough to get. It's a shame that we can't get a guaranteed seat to the sessions that we are most interested in.
did not get to attend - room was too crowded to easily find a seat.
Very strong british accent compounded by hiss in mike made it very hard to understand
Mike is an excellent speaker and excels in a teaching environment. He pulled no punches where it was necessary (Sorry VMWare).
one of the best speakers at a conference ever.
Mike is a great speaker with extensive technical knowledge.
Excellent speaker. We need more real-world experience and warts'n'all speakers like Mike at these events. Anyone can read the PDFs I they want to know what a product should do, Mike tells us how it really does and doesn't work.
So good I then went and got his book!
good session
I understand that books were given out to the first 25 people, it would have been nice to receive some information that was covered. Like copies of the presentation. However, this is what I recommend to all the Breakout sessions so far.
the content only referred to the topic in the most general way. it was not technical at all. the speaker was entertaining, that's the best i can say
This session required detailed understanding about SRM as a pre-req. Presenter was there to sell his book Great speaker! Great content! Highly recommend!
Superb session; great speaker. This is why I attend VMworld!
Please bring back reserved session seating.
Too much self promotion.
Love the speaker's style.
This speaker was very good. He loves to teach the audience and share his knowledge and learn from his audience.
Mike does a great job whenever I hear him talk.
No vendor slant, just full of good to know info and presents well
Between the echo and accent, could barely understand the speaker
Mike is always brilliant and his content was spot on. Unlike other vendor lead session, this session actually had the real world experiences and best practices promised in other session. tj
Did not attend. Left early to get lunch
It was a bit too repetitive on the "misuse of tool" concept. It is a good intro to the subject, but seemed to harp on this at the expense of sharing valuable experiences at the end.
Great job. Appreciated the overall industry perspective
Excellent insight, great speaker, honest discussion. No chance of nodding off.
This is a product that will likely get implemented over the next year. Mike was a great talker and kept your attention throughout.